DEMOCRATS HIT REPUBLICANS WHERE NELLY WORE THE BEADS

Harding's "Sign on the Dotted Line" Policy Repudiated by Voters. Newberryism Helped Dig the Hole. Some of the Lessons of the Victory.

The Democrats hit the Republicans in the election Tuesday throughout the country where Nelly wore the beads. They smote them hip and thigh. The Republicans were routed horse, foot and dragoon. The only reason there was not more routing was because the job was limited. The voters expressed dissatisfaction from Yellow Rabbit to Vinegar Bend. The disgust with Harding and his "sign on the dotted line" policy, was manifest from the Lakes to the Gulf, from Cape Cod to Kalamazoo, from hell to breakfast. The wrath of the folks was given sway.

The Democrats have very nearly, if not quite, wiped out a Republican majority of 100 in the lower house. They have won senatorial seats in the rock-ribbed Republican states of Rhode Island, New Jersey, West Virginia, Oregon, Michigan, New York, North Dakota. Old Cat Lodge came near losing his seat in the Senate in Massachusetts. He got through by the skin of his teeth and there seems to be a shadow on his seat. His Democratic opponent is asking a recount. The Democrats changed a 500,000 adverse majority in New York in 1920 to a 300,000 victory this time. Democratic governors were chosen in New Hampshire, New York, New Jersey, Ohio, where President Harding's bosom friend, Thompson, was the Republican candidate, elected a Democratic governor. Kansas fell in line and elected a Democratic governor, so did Nebraska. At this writing the returns from a number of states are not complete, but the handwriting is sufficient to stun the Republican leaders. They have said what the little boy shot at, nothing. They have their fingers in their mouths.

In truth there is general dissatisfaction throughout the country, and rightly so. Harding promised a great deal and has played marbles while the big corporations and the moneyed interests of the country wrote a tariff bill that has taxed the great body of people over $4,000,000,000 annually. The money power has absolutely dictated the policy of the administration. The country has not felt good at Standard Oil Co. declaring a 200 per cent dividend while the poor folks down the line have sweated blood over debts made during the war. The masses of the folks are in the toil.

It is up to the Democrats now to act wisely and to play statesmanship and not politics. The people want action and not talk. Fortunately for the Democrats the Republicans will still be charged with running the goverment for the next two years. Legislation has been too much for the favored few. Now if Harding and his Republican looters ram the Ship Subsidy bill down the throats of the people and thereby tax the masses $75,000,000 a year to aid the shipping trust, then the doom of that party is sealed.

The Republicans have been enabled to put through some perfidious legislation through the seating of Newberry of Michigan who paid over $200,000 to win his election. That was an issue in the campaign. The people have said that they want no purchased seats in the Senate to aid in making laws. Newberryism helped dig a hole for the Republicans to fall in.

The knifing of Beveridge by the old guard Republicans in Indiana means future trouble there for the Republican party.

In Mississippi all is well. The highway amendment seems to have carried with votes to spare and so also does it appear that the amendment seeking to abolish the office of county treasurer seems to have carried. Good.

The total vote in Grenada County was 495, 275 of which was cast in Grenada. Stephens' vote was 491; Busby, 495; Lamb, 495; McGowen, 490; For abolishing office of County Treasurer, 395; against, 91; for Highway amendment, 485; against 27. Th amendments seem to have carried throughout the State.

THE WORK OF THE WOMAN'S CLUB.

The Woman's Club is to be congratulated upon all activities it has undertaken. The chairman of the music department and the committee co-operated with Grenada College in securing one of the finest lyceum courses ever brought to Grenada. The Civic department awakened an interest in outdoor-life and flowers in this district during the fair with a beautifully decorated pergola and flower show. Club women from all over the State visited the pergola and signified their intention of co-operating with the Woman's Club in flower culture and a show for the fair next fall. The float of the Woman's Club took one of the prizes in the parade during the fair. It was planned and decorated by members of the club.

The Health Department was ably assisted by women from the State Department of Child Welfare who are now very much interested in the work of the Woman's Club along that line and have promised to give every assistance for next fall.

Now is the time for the County people to assist in beautifying the highway by planting memorial trees. A bill was passed through the last legislature appropriating $500 for this work. The object is to make a beautiful avenue through the South, bordered by memorial trees that have been given by people of the South. These trees are to have a name plate showing a brief history of the donor. Mrs. H. J. Ray is county chairman of this work. Who will give a tree. ***

MRS. WALLACE J. SHERWOOD DIED SUNDAY.

Mrs. Wallace J. Sherwood passed away Sunday afternoon at two o'clock at the home of her husband's parents in Grenada after a somewhat protracted illness. The funeral services were held at the residence Monday afternoon after which the remains were placed on I. C. train No. 4, and carried back to her former home at Evansville, Ind. The funeral services were conducted by Revs. W. W. Woollard and J. R. Cunningham.

Mrs. Sherwood was a sweet spirited, gentle and lovely character. She was resigned to the end, for in the days gone by she had accepted the plan of salvation as laid down by the Savior of mankind and had lived the life she thought her Savior wanted her to live. She was surrounded by her family, including her mother, when the final hour came. She leaves a three and one half year old child besides her husband and other relatives to mourn her untimely end. She was 26 years, five months and twenty seven days old. To the grief stricken, The Sentinel tenders sincere sympathy.

THREAT OF CONTEST ISSUED BY J. H. COOK

Democrats Interpret Letter As Camouflage by G. O. P.

The following letter from Hon. J. H. Cook, of Sumner, United States marshall for the northern district of Mississippi and Republican candidate for United States Senator, is considering another of his many "jokes" that the Republican subjects of Mississippi are perpetrating in the hope of making the national organization of that party think that there is a real live Republican party within this state, according to leading Democrats.

Mr. Cook's letter was dated at Jackson, Nov. 3, and was directed to "The Election Commissioners of Grenada County."

He said:

"I understand from the newspaper report that you have allowed some of the signers of my petition to withdraw their names from the petition after the same was filed with you. This action on your part is a strict violation of the law, and also unfair and unjust from a moral standpoint.

Threatens Contest.

"I feel that I know Hubert D. Stephens well enough to believe that he would condemn your action in this matter, and I do not censure him in the least; but if my name does not appear on the ticket, I will be compelled to contest the votes received by him on your county. Your action in this matter may result in the Senate refusing to seat Mr. Stephens in case of his election."

There was but one name withdrawn from the petition filed in Grenada County, it is said. The law requires fifty qualified electors and that the petition shall be filed not less than fifteen days before the election. The petition bears no date and the total number of names attached are fifty, fully 25 per cent and perhaps more, of whom are not qualified electors, officers say. A goodly number of the fifty signatures are negroes and many of the names are so written that it is very difficult to tell who they are.

More Contest Rumors.

There are some surmises as to whether Mr. Cook's letter does not give an inkling of what is said to be brewing in Republican circles of Mississippi to contest the seats of all congressmen and the senator to be elected upon the grounds that that party has no representative on the various county boards of election commissioners.

Chapter 4107, of the code of 1906 states who shall constitute the board of state election commissioners and names the powers and the duties of this body and among the powers committed is the naming of "a board of election commissioners for each county, to consist of three discreet persons who are freeholders and electors in the county in which they are to act, and who shall not all be of the same political party, if such men of different political parties can be conveniently had in the county."

MAN'S HEAD SHOT OFF FROM AMBUSH

Row About Stock and Flogging Causes Jim Melton to lie in Wait for Adversary and Kill Him. Melton in Jail.

On Thursday night of last week Thomas Kendall was killed by Jim Melton on the Leigh farm east of Hardy. The men were both white tenants on this farm, and according to the best information available, they fell out about some live stock. It is stated that Kendall gave Melton a flogging which laid him up in bed, whereupon Melton took his trusty shot gun and got on the roadside behind a tree, and when Kendall came along in a wagon, he emptied the contents of his gun into Kendall's head which practically blew his head off.

Melton then sought refuge in a neighbor's home and had Sheriff Dogan notified. Mr. Dogan proceeded at once to the scene and took Melton in custody and today he lingers behind the bars at the county jail.

Melton, it is stated, stood in mortal fear of Kendall. He himself detailed the tragedy about as above stated. Melton is 27 years of age and Kendall was about 30. They both were married and have some children.

POTTLE--MIERS.

A lovely wedding and around which centered much interest was that of Miss Stella Miers and Mr. Ralph Pottle, of New Orleans, La., which occurred Sunday, Nov. 5th, at high noon, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. W. M. Miers.

The home was simply but artistically decorated in ferns and chrysanthemums.

Preceeding the ceremony, Miss Wanetah Kleiser rendered the violin solo, "At Dawning," and Mrs. W. A. Campbell sang, "I Love You Truly," with Mr. H. B. Miller, Jr., presiding at the piano.

The bridal couple entered to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, led by the two attractive little ring bearers, Louise McCaslin and Betty Lou Burns who wore beautiful hand embroidered white frocks. Each child carried a large white chrysanthemum, in the hearts of which rested the wedding rings.

The bride was lovely in a model of dark brown veldyne with which she wore a corsage bouquet of bride's roses and valley lilies.

Rev. E. R. Henderson, of the Central Baptist church, said the impressive double ring ceremony, assisted by Rev. J. R. Cunningham, of the Presbyterian church.

Mr. Pottle lived for quite a while in Grenada and is a young man that favorably impressed the community. He has exceptional musical talent and is connected with the New Orleans Conservatory of Music as instructor in violin.

Mrs. Pottle is a daughter of Mrs. W. M. Mier and is a young woman of many excellencies of character. She has a bright mind and is gracious of manner and charming in person.

Mr. and Mrs. Pottle left for New Orleans, La., their future home.

The Sentinel joins in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Pottle much happiness in life.

TO MEMBERS JIM TRIMBLE POST AMERICAN LEGION

Next Saturday, November 11th, Is Armistice Day.

This Post will observe that day by beginning the planting of memorial trees along the Jeff Davis Highway, immediately south of the city limits of Grenada. A tree will be planted for each man who served in the World War from Grenada Coutny. These trees will be planted at intervals of 125 feet, making an avenue of trees which will serve as a perpetual memorial to our comrades who fell in the service of their country by land and by sea. Five trees will be planted this Armistice Day and hereafter Armistice Day trees will be planted until the memorial is completed.

As a member of this Post you are requested to make your arrangements to take part in these ceremonies which will begin promptly at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. Be on hand at the public square promptly at 9:45 from which point this Post will proceed by automobiles to the place where the trees will be planted. (If you have a car, report there in it.)

This Post has been planning to do this all year, and you are asked to be on hand to take part. LET'S PUT THIS ACROSS IN THE PROPER SHAPE. Don't leave it to the others to do your part but be there yourself and lets put this across with the same spirit and co-operation we celebrated April 6th and July 4th.

This Post is counting on every member to do his duty.

NOTICE

A few of the lelegates to the Baptist Convention will arrive Monday and I will appreciate it if the ones who have been kind enough to give rooms for them will have their rooms ready Monday.

HOME FOR INDIGENT OLD NEGROES OPENED

The Old Negroes of Grenada County Assured of Home. Home Starts Primarily in Brain of J. T. Thomas, Those at Opening.

An event of more than passing importance, one that may reach far into the future and that may prove to be one of the happy mile stones in the life of Grenada County, took place in Grenada Wednesday morning when the home for indigent old negroes provided by the Grenada County Colored Relief Society was formally opened.

There were present, besides a number of the more prominent colored citizens, Mr. J. T. Thomas and Prof. John Rundle. Prof. Rundle made a brief talk which showed that he was heartily interested in the home and the society. Mr. Thomas was really the prime mover toward organizing the Grenada County Colored Relief Society, and indeed it has been from his purse that a very great part of the funds to start the Society to moving and that has led to the home, has come. Mr. Thomas made a splendid talk. He showed that he had a comprehensive grasp of what true beneficence means and that he had not failed to give a great deal of thought to what the condition of the unfortunate negroes, especially the old ones, demand of the white people. In this, as in so many, very many other things. Mr. Thomas again showed that while he is running banks and doing big things in a financial way, that he realizes that there are even bigger things than these for the good man and the good citizens to do. Certainly it will not in the final day be said that he deliberately "passed by on the other side" when there was some needy or suffering man or woman that he could lend a helping hand.

The head of the city colored school, Blackburn, spoke a few words. Blackburn is always right fortunate in what he says and makes a good, pointed talk. He was fully up to the standard that morning. Rev. Nabors, a local colored minister, made a speech which showed that he keenly appreciated what was being done for those of his race. Prof. Fellows, a visiting colored man, made a most excellent address. He also turned over $35 to the home.

There are plans on foot to open a small hospital at the home for negroes and any beneficent minded person, white or black, would be doing something in the name of the Lowly Nazarine to send Mr. J. T. Thomas a contribution to that end. Who will be the first?

BAPTIST CONVENTION NEXT WEEK

Everybody To Entertain. No Ladies Expected.

Grenada next week will be overflowing with Baptists. By this The Sentinel would not have it understood that these good men are actually going to immerse everybody in Grenada with water, but they may be counted on to immerse the whole community with the sunshine of their presence and with that zeal and enthusiasm which is characteristic of those of that religious faith.

The Mississippi Baptist State Convention is coming to Grenada. It is perhaps the largest church organization of the State. The other churches subdivide. If the ladies were to come, Grenada would have to move out, but it seems that the bigness of the organization prompted the wiser heads to divide the activities of the men and the women, so far as the state meet is concerned, and a State organization especially for the women of the Baptist church was perfected. So the coming State Convention, so far as delegates are concerned, will be strictly a man affair. And there will be well nigh 500 of these.

It goes without saying that Grenada will do its best to entertain highly and well these good people. The town always does the courteous and the chivalrous thing. Those of other congregations will be glad to assist Rev. W. E. Farr, the splendid and stirring pastor of the First Baptist church, and his congregation in playing the part of host to these noble, God-fearing men. Committees have already canvassed the town for homes for the delegates, and if there be any who can, and who have not agreed to take delegates, it is hoped that they will seek the chairman of the entertainment committee, Mr. John P. Pressgrove or Mr. Farr at once. The capacity of the whole town is going to be taxed. It is stated that the delegates will be here for only two nights, possibly three, and that beds and breakfast will be the only provision required for them. They will get dinner and supper at the hotels and cafes, or elsewhere.

REVELL FURNITURE CO. READY IN A FEW DAYS

The Revell Furniture Co. has been compelled to delay opening because of the delay is getting building ready, but hopes to be ready for business in a few days. This firm may be counted on to add another splendid, stable establishment to Grenada. It will have exceptionally fine stock and buyers may expect a treat in many ways.

FERGUSON WRITES ABOUT 3 TO 2 VOTE OF COUNCIL ON SALARIES

Thinks Men on Public Payroll Should be Compensated Like They Would be if Employed Privately. Some Appealing Suggestions by Councilman.

Editor Sentinel:

You are always liberal with space in your paper for any and all matters that pertain to the public welfare, and as you printed a few words from me in your last issue in regard to the office of alderman to which I had been chosen, I trust you will permit me to say a few more words in your next issue concerning some of the conditions of the City of Grenada as I see them.

As before stated I am for "progress," but in order to have progress, there must be some curtailing of the city's expenses. "Progress" does not necessarily mean higher shoes, higher clothing, higher rents, higher groceries, higher taxes and an increase of public expenses. The matter, which the men chosen to conduct the business of the people of Grenada, can immediately address themselves to, is the cutting of salaries. I do not in the least mean to reflect on any officer or city employe. But it does seem to me that it is time that our public officials as well as others should be willing to get back in the neighborhood of pre-war salaries and prices.

But to get a reduction in the salaries of city officials and employes there will need to be a reconsideration at our next meeting of a resolution passed at the meeting this week by a vote of 3 to 2, one of the aldermen being absent. The action taken by the majority vote above named, would seem to make certain the people made no mistake, but were right beyond question, when they voted Oct. 28, not to increase our taxes by 2 mills. The Council, in asking for the increase, said the City needed the money, yet when the money is refused by the people, they vote not to save money but to pay men far beyond what they could get working for any private concern or for individuals. If the City were out of debt, I might be in favor of some increases rather than cuts, but the town is in debt and under present management, a greater indebtedness confronts the people of the town.

A small reduction along the lines heretofore indicated, could not hurt any officer or employe, but would be a saving of several hundred dollars per month to the city, and thereby save in expenses in a short while the 2 mills increase recently asked. The Mayor stated before he was elected that a salary of $50 per month was all he wanted and still stands by that, yet the Council either inadvertently or otherwise fixed his salary at $100, and as I understand, under the order, he may also draw, or keep, the perquisites.

Now I do not intend to reflect in the least on my associate Councilmen. They are my personal friends, but it is not their business or my business I am discussing but that of the town of Grenada. I am persuaded that they have not heard what the tax payers generally are saying, or have heard, but refuse to hearken.

One of the most prominent issues in the last city election was the reduction of salaries yet the only reduction made is in that of the Mayor and it appears that there has been only a stagger at that.

I want to say that I feel more than ever before that the City Charter should be changed so that the Mayor and board of aldermen could have more control of the marshal, and that the recorder should be the assessor and tax collector and strictly the office man or woman.

Let the people of the town talk over these matters and aid Mr. Gerard and myself in what we are seeking to do by a resolution at the next meeting of the Council.

With the kindest feelings for all, and assuring those who might be affected by what I suggest as to salary cuts, of my most cordial good will, I am, Cordially,

WM. P. FERGUSON.

Grenada, Miss., Nov. 8, 1922.

REVELL--BROWN

The Brown home on Third street was the scene of a quiet but beautiful wedding on the afternoon of Thursday, Nov. 2nd, when in the presence of the immediate relatives, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Brown gave in marriage their daughter, Susan Ann, to Mr. Theodore Bryan Revell. The home, one of the loveliest in Grenada, was lavishly decorated throughout with ferns and yellow chrysanthemums, the place of ceremony being marked by a bower of ferns, interspersed with baskets of chryanthemums.

To the happy notes of Lohengrin's Wedding March, played by a cousin of the bride, Mrs. Frank S. Yorks, the bride, attired in a handsome gown of brown canton crepe with accessories to match, carrying a bouquet of gorgeous yellow chrysanthemums, was met at the entrance to the living room by the groom and at the appointed place Rev. W. E. Farr of the First Baptist church awaited them and joined their young lives together.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Revell left for Memphis.

The bride, one of Grenada's most beautiful, talented and popular young ladies, is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Brown, and comes from one of Mississippi's most prominent families.

Her parents happily are among those that have believed that their first duty was to their daughter. So it is that she has had that love and confiding care that the mothers of the present generation thought were so essential to the development and rounding out of a lovely girlhood into a beautiful womanhood. They have the consolation of seeing their love and efforts materialize into one of Grenada's most attractive, gracious and splendid young women.

She has a wide circle of friends who extend to her every sincere wish for a happy future.

Mr. Revell has a most pleasing personality. He is exceedingly clever and has a well trained and a well balanced mind. He bears all the earmarks of a man who by nature and by training holds the highest reverence for womanhood all of which gives assurance that he will make a good husband. His parents are among the leading citizens of Paris, Texas, and his father is one of the most prominent business factors of that city.

The many friends of this popular couple rejoice in the fact that they will make Grenada their home where Mr. Revell will enter into business. They will be at home to their friends after Nov. 7th at the residence of the bride's parents on Third street.

The Sentinel tenders congratulations and best wishes.

THE BROWN FAMILY ARE VERY GRATEFUL.

There were so many loving and gracious things done for us when our husband and father was so suddenly called away, that we feel, that only through the columns of The Sentinel could we even faintly express what is in our hearts. If it were possible for thoughtfulness and evidences of real love to soften one's sorrows, then our should be softened. The many kind things said about our dear one drew us close to each and every one. The many beautiful flowers spoke to us in the language of heaven. We are so grateful to one and all. We wish to thank especially the merchants who so considerately closed their stores for the funeral. We know that our departed one has deeply impressed himself upon our life, as well as that of many others, and out of this dispensation of Providence, which has been, and will be repeated in the lives of loved ones and families until time shall be no more, may we all gather more abundantly of the sweeter and holier things of life.

Sincerely,
Mrs. J. H. Brown,
C. H. Brown and wife,
D. B. Brown and wife,
C. H. Calhoon and wife,
W. T. McGehee and wife.
E. C. Brewer and wife.

THE MUDDLE ABOUT THE SCHOOL FUNDS

We are listening for somebody to openly charge Stokes Robertson, Revenue Agent, with the muddling of the school funds of the State. The fellow that flings this brick at the Revenue Agent will be like the boy that John Allen told about in his campaign for the Senate against McLaurin. Two boys were in the backyard of their home; one called loud and lustily for his mother. The mother came to the door and said: "Johnny what's the matter," to which Johnny replied, "Ma, make Bill stop; every time I hit him he hits me back."

A ROW AMONG CERTAIN STATE DOCTORS

We are just a bit surprised at what appears to be headed for a healthy row between certain doctors of Mississippi and members of the State Board of Health. We have in mind the address recently delivered by Dr. Galloway, of Jackson, in which he expatiated somewhat at length on what might be termed his idea of the mistakes and blunders of the State Health Board. He was bold to assert that that the State Health Board has too much money at its command.

Dr. W. S. Leathers, chief executive officer of the State, has issued a statement which is a splendid presentation of the matter from his viewpoint. Dr. Leathers is a very able man and can be counted on to give a good accounting of himself in any controversy.

WHAT IS NEEDED IN NEXT GOVERNOR.

The State of Mississippi will nominate and elect a Governor, next year, who will preside over the executive department of the state for four years. To say that the office of Governor is the most important office to be filled by the state next year, is to draw it mildly.

The Governor has to see to the execution of the laws of the State, now a very important issue. He has to look after the finances, the taxes and other matters too numerous to mention.

If there ever was a time when the state needed a clean, clear headed man, it is now. And if there is no stop to waste and extravagance, the commonwealth will soon be in the bankrupt column.

One thing is sure, the tax rate is too high and means must be found to lower the rate, and a man should be chosen that is a tax payer and knows something about the burdens of taxation.

The Star-Herald has not made any choice yet, but it wants a good strong man.

Our friend Lawrence, of the Grenada Sentinel, in a private letter says that "the man who helped kill the snakes in the Spring, should do the fishing." This seems good, if the right man can be found. But let us have a good man.—Kosciusko Star-Ledger.

MOONEY AND "THE MIXING OF BABIES."

Mr. Mooney's editorial comment in the Commercial Appeal on the incident of the mother at the hospital thinking that they were giving her some baby other than her own has brought out some rather interesting matter in reference to the charges of the "city surgeons." Mr. Mooney has stated something that we have had in our minds that should be said for a long time.

There have been "drives" for years to build hospitals in the cities but if anybody has ever thought of making some arrangements whereby the afflicted carried to these hospitals built by public contributions, are to be protected against unreasonable charges by city surgeons and "specialists," we have never heard of it. And in the cities there has come to be so many "specialists," that it is sometime difficult to get a physician to treat the average illness.

The doctors in the smaller towns and in the country—God bless them—they are the salt of the earth, and we surmise that they sometimes feel rebellious at what their patients are compelled to pay city surgeons.

In this same connection, it comes to our mind that somebody ought to raise a voice of protest against the charges of undertakers in the cities. Those who are called upon to give up their loved ones away from home and at city hospitals, are victimized by the city undertaker. We have in mind a recent case from Grenada where the undertaker in Memphis made a charge of $950 against a widow practically without means for the casket and other things incident to preparing the remains of the dead husband for burial. We know of another case where the undertaker in a city presented a bill for $25 for shaving the face of the dead.

"What shall it profit a man if he gains the whole world and lose his own soul?"

BIRDS GATHERED IN A ROSEBUSH

What is a prettier picture than a rose bush adorned with gorgeous red flowers on a November morning When the foliage of the trees is dying and when the rebirth of the verdure of grass, of field and of flower, which comes in the Spring-time, is slowly wending its way to the land of the past, it is then that the delicacy, the gentleness and beauty of the rose rises to a higher pedestal and we see in it reflected rays of a mysterious grandeur from somewhere.

We looked out of our window Sunday morning and saw gathered in a rose bush where beautiful red roses spoke forth the smiles of heaven, a number of tiny birds that were evidently enjoying their retreat, and, in bird-language, were uttering paeans of admiration of the roses and of their appreciation of the shelter of the rose bush.

The thought came to us, "What a happy combination of thorns, of beauty and contentment."

This moving, seething, surging world is but another and a much larger picture of the birds in the rose bush. There are thorns along every pathway, just as there was in this rose bush, and there are roses of every hue there, too, but the thing mankind needs to learn, is to be able, like the birds, to avoid the thorns and to hunt for and admire the gorgeous roses and at the same time drink in their delightful aroma.

Beauty is round about us. Let us open our eyes in a way to see it. Roses of every shade and color are adorning our pathways, let us set our vision to see them. Contentment is ours if we but adjust ourselves where it can shower the luxury of its blessings upon us.

We live in a beautiful world. "The heavens declare the glory of God and the firmament showeth His handiwork."

There are many lessons even man can learn from the little bird, from the fowls of the air and the beasts of the field.

If you have never observed the little birds holding a tete-a-tete in a rose bush, the next time you see some gathered in one, watch them, and see what it makes you think.

DODGE BROTHERS
MOTOR CAR

The evenness of performance so often remarked in Dodge Brothers Motor Cars is due, in no small part, to the thoroughness with which each unit is inspected during the process of manufacture and assembly.

A trained staff of 800 experts is employed in this work alone, and approximately 5285 individual inspections are made on each car.

So exacting and rigid are the standards applied to these inspections that the slightest variation either in workmanship or material is instantly discovered and rejected.

Dodge Brothers are almost over-scrupulous in their constant aim to make each car as sound and perfect as is humanly possible.

Mr. Gainey Visits Our School

Mr. Gainey, Secretary of the State Board of Education, was our visitor last Friday. He spoke during the first period to the boys of the High School on the subject of physical and moral development. We are always glad to welcome the members of the State Board and have been very fortunate in having several of them with us at different times this session.

Grenada Vs. Charleston

Our team will leave Friday at to play football with the Cha team on the Charleston field t teroon. This will be the fifth of the season, the others having with Water Valley, Clarksdale, G wood and Oxford. Our boys have two games and won 2. Our thoughts and hopes go with them Friday, although we ourselves will be busy with school work.

"Girls Reserve" Conduct Chapel

The members of the "Girls Reserve" very creditably conducted chapel exercises Wednesday morning They sang several songs which told of the work and spirit of their organization. Then Sallie Billups, acting as leader, announced the different parts of the program. Louise Smith read the nineteenth Psalm, after which Martha Bell prayed very earnestly. Mary Slaughter rendered a piano solo in a most pleasing manner, which was followed by a very humorous reading, "Tom Sawyer's Love Affair," by Louise Kimbrell. Rowena Betz sang and her sweet voice carried the true, pure spirit of the "Girls Reserve" into the hearts of all. We are looking forward to such another treat from this excellent organization.—Reporter.

MORE MONEY FOR COTTON

"More money for cotton" is the title of a phamphlet issued by the Mississippi Farm Bureau Cotton Association and the figures are truly enlightening as to the gains that will be possible through the organization of a co-operative cotton marketing association in this state. It has been conservatively estimated that the Mississippi Cotton Marketing Association will mean a clear gain of more than $14,650,000 annually to the farmers of Mississippi, an increase of over $14 per bale.

There are six principal reasons for this gain that will interest every farmer in the state and a brief outline of the facts is shown as follows:

An elimination of country damage which varies from $6 to $25 per bale.

By hiring capable men to grade and staple the cotton. These men will be responsible to the farmer instead of the speculator and will eliminate undergrading.

A systematic policy of orderly selling throughout the year instead of dumping on the market.

By eliminating street buyers and speculators and saving their salaries.

Taking a share in the price control by trading with the spinners and exporters direct thereby eliminating the speculator and the gambler.

Under the present system from two to six samples are cut out of every bale of cotton put on the market. Under the co-operative plan of marketing only one sample is required and even this sample, after being used, is sold for the benefit of the farmer, entirely eliminating the so called "city crop."

"MY MOTHER"

The hand that rocked my cradle,
The hand that soothed my brow,
The lips that kissed my little dirty face,
None in this world, or in the other,
Could have done these things just like "My Mother."
The eyes that ne'er grew weary,
Tho' her heart was sad and dreary,
She would sit and watch my toddling steps alone,
And when evening shadows gathered, I would sit upon her knee,
And list to that old story of Christ in Gethsemane.
The many smiles she's gven me,
Have o'ft been met with frowns,
So I'll take this means to tell her,
How my poor sad heart will grieve, when God calls her home to wear her Starry crown.
We've braved life storms together, She and I,
And the sorrows we have had, and the tears that we have shed,
Would cause a heart of stone to heave a sigh.
When she's called home and I'm alone
Her loving counsel no longer to guide me,
My life will be as shipwrecked without her lovng care,
As a ship without a rudder on the sea.
Many years I pray will pass, e're the summons comes for her,
The silver too by then, like her's Will gleam within my hair,
Even then I'll love and need her,
As when in days gone by,
She sat alone and sang to me, and rocked my little cradle.

STUDY THE BUDGET PUBLISHED

How Many Taxpayers Have taken The Time?

The Mississippian published at Gulfport and edited by our friend, H. E. Blakeslee, contained a very pertiment editorial in a recent issue relative to the expenses of county and municipal governments and the budgets published under recent legislative enactment. The Mississippian pertinently inquires, "How many people of Harrison County have studied the budget" of proposed expenses for next year? The Sentinel might ask the same question of Grenada County. Men are "so busy" that they do not take time to GET BUSY.

The following is the Mississippian article:

It was a wise law placed on our state books that required boards of supervisors and municipal officers to prepare a budget of expenses for the current year and publish same in a newspaper of general circulation after their September proceedings.

It would undoubtedly have been well if this same statute had inclined all state departments, boards and commissions of whatsoever nature they may have been, if they were in any way empowered to expend money derived from taxation.

Our National Government has accepted the wisdom of such a course and the initial effort was made by the Dawes commission of three years ago. Let us sincerely hope that every department, National, State, County, District and Municipal will reap the benefits to accrue from such a course but if this benefit is to be received, the people, the taxpayers themselves, have a duty to perform. Our duly selected officials generally are anxious to have the advice of their constituents in such matters, and this new law is for the specific purpose of acquainting the taxpayers with the expenditures proposed to be made.

Coming down to brass tacks, how many citizens and taxpayers of Harrison county have studied the budget of expenses for next year as made by our Board of Supervisors and published in accordance with the new law?

This law provides that in event a suggested expenditure is not considered a wise one by a certain number of taxpayers, that they can legally petition against same and have an election ordered for the purpose of getting an expression from said taxpayers. This guarantees the will of the people being carried out.

There is contained in this no suggestion that any one of the items included in this budget is not a wise one, but it is to call the attention of the people of Harrison County to the provisions of this law and the fact that it constitutes every legal voter as a member of a great body that is charged with handling county affairs in a safe and sane manner.

This statement as made not only suggests the liabilities for next year, the amount of money that will be used on the varied projects, but is also a statement of the sources from which this money is expected to be received, the assets of the county.

Any good business man will carefully check his assets as against liabilities to be incurred in any undertaking, and the same should sacredly apply to state, county, district and municipal affairs. Study carefully this statement or budget, check it against the assets or sources of revenue and in the end decide what you, in the handling of your business, would do under like conditions.

Let it again be repeated, that under the provisions of this new law every taxpayer is constituted a part and parcel of the body that is to conduct our affairs in the future. It cannot be said that any official has done wrong or gone beyond his authority if the taxpayer fails to take advantage of the invitation for his wishes in the matter to be made known.

Our officers invite you to study the budget they have suggested, compare the liabilities contemplated with the likely assets and then to offer your counsel and advice as to what is the proper course to pursue concerning each and every item.

TOWNER-STERLING BILL IS CREATED.

From Woman Voter.

The Towner-Sterling bill creates a department of education, with a secretary of education in the cabinet, and start with an initial appropriation of one hundred million dollars of the taxpayer's money to extend education at a moment when education in the various states is staggering along in a highly satisfactory manner, but when the taxpayer is holding his aching head in his hands as a result of excessive and highly unsatisfactory taxes.

Representative John Jacob Rogers, of Massachusetts, a Republican, says of the Towner-Sterling bill: "I do not believe Massachusetts or California is a better judge of what her people should learn, and how and in what school they should learn it, than any bureau or department chief in Washington can be. Education is inherently local in character. if we take away from the states one after another of their traditional functions why should we retain the states themselves? Federal control education is bound to be expensive, uneconomical and wasteful. I believe that the Towner-Sterling bill in its present form is not progression, but retrogression."

Senator William H. King, of Utah, places his finger on the same sore spot. "The Towner-Sterling bill" he says, "aims to rob the states of reserved rights and to increase the bureaucratic power already appressively exercised in this republic. Bismarck sought to standardize the German schools and to control the education of the German states thru an autocratic bureau. The result was the schools imbibed the spirit of bureaucracy and standardization of centralization and starndarization of education will prove destructive to our public school system and contribute to the overthrow of the states and the establishment of a consolidation government un-democratic, unrepublican, and outside the letter and the spirit of our institutions, and the constitution of the United States.

"The hour calls for the revival of individualism and a spirit of self-government. Washington is too powerful and the heavy hand of the federal government is now an obstacle to Democratic growth and to the development of the moral and spiritual forces essential for true progress. A department of education would mean tens of thousands of federal office holders, a heavier burden of taxation and an encroachment upon the rights of the States."

Representative Caleb R. Layton, of Delaware, treats the Sterling-Towner bill in the following rough but satisfying manner:

"The department of education would be a vast political machine operating in every school house in the land. Its political power would be incalculable by reason of its opportunity for propaganda for any purpose the department might see fit to inaugurate. The very history of the country would be at its mercy; principles of any kind of political economy could be ingrained in the minds of the new generation, and the whole nation molded in the same universal mold which one man would fashion."

In view of all the sane and valid reasons why our United States should not have a centralized system of education, God forbid the success of the Towner-Sterling bill!

TEXAS WOMEN JOINING STELLA VITAE CAMPAIGN

Mrs. Katie Hilt, of San Antonio, Tells Her Experience And Begs Other Suffering Women To Try This Wonderful Treatment.

"If every woman who is suffering from Female Troubles would take my advice, they would get some Stella Vitae and begin taking it right away" declared Mrs. Katy Hilt, 311 Tilden St., San Antonio, Texas, in a letter received since the Better Health for Women Campaign, now in progress was launched in Grenada.

"I know what I am talking about," she said." This treatment has brought me so much relief and built me up so you would hardly recognize me as the same woman I was before I began taking it.

"No woman ever suffered more than I did with weak spells, nervousness and terrible headaches and backaches. I never wanted anything to eat and I fell off in weight until I was worried almost to distraction. I had constipation, too, and pains around my stomach at times that would almost double me up.

"I tell you I was miserable, but soon after I began taking Stella Vitae I noticed my troubles easing up. I began to get hungry and my food didn't upset my stomach any more. I got to sleeping sound at night and picking up in weight and now I feel just fine in every way. That's why I say Stella Vitae ought to be used by every suffering woman. It's the greatest treatment on earth."

Note—Stella Vitae may be obtained from any druggist and is sold upon the positive guarantee to bring relief or the purchase price will be returned.Druggist are supplied from the Van Vleet-Mansfield Drug Co., Memphis, Tenn., Distributors.—Advertisement.

RECTOR CALLED FOR GRENADA

Episcopal Congregation Expect Him In A Few Weeks.

The Episcopal congregation of Grenada, who have been without a rector since July 1921, recently called, and he has accepted, Rev. Robert W. Emerson, of Thurber, Texas, to the rectorship of the Episcopal church in Grenada.

Mr. Emerson and family are expected to arrive in Grenada sometime the latter part of this month and he is to preach his first sermon December 3. He comes to Grenada most highly recommended by his bishop, and the membership at Grenada feel that they are securing one of the very strong and growing younger men of the ministry of their church. Mr. Emerson married at Jackson, Tenn., and some of the members of this congregation had the privilege of hearing him preach there.

The church has undergone many repairs and much improvement since the former rector, Rev. E. A. DeMiller left. It has always been a beautiful edifice but it is even prettier now than ever. The recotory has likewise been greatly improved. So it is that the new Rector may feel that the church has made every provision for his comfort, and that the fairly new church means that great things are expected of his ministry here.

The community is prepared to give Mr. Emerson and his family a most generous welcome, and this paper feels sure that all will join in wishing him a most successful pastorate.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI METHODIST CONFERENCE.

Dr. J. R. Countiss, Revs. R. A. Tucker, W. W. Woollard, and J. E. Stephens and Mr. R. W. Sharp and Mrs. A. W. Stokes are in attendance upon the annual conference of the North Mississippi Conference of the Methodist church which convened at Water Valley Wednesday morning.

A goodly number of ministers and their wives and lay delegates from the delta and other points south stopped over in Grenada Monday and Tuesday en route to the Conference.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY AND BASKET SUPPER.

Grenada, Miss., Nov. 3.—One of the most pleasant entertainments of the year was held at the Gore Springs High School building on Friday night. Though the time was not the annual date of Hallowe'en, yet there was every evidence of the real Hallowe'en spirit manifested. The witches and gypsies with their usual pots and arts, seated in a bower of fall evergreens, told their weird tales, and unburdened the weary by sharing their sorrows and troubles in an understanding way. The little folks shared equally in the pleasure that comes at this time.

Various methods of entertainment were resorted to and the time passed away to the perfect satisfaction of all. The only regret heard was that the attendants must wait until the last day of another October before the could have a repetition.

The ladies of the community and the girls of the home science department, served delicious refreshments to those who could be lured from the enchanted forest scenery and from investigating the unknown mysteries surrounding them. A neat sum of $50 was realized from the sale of the baskets, candies, sandwiches, etc. Mr. Gaston Williams carried off the cake and Miss Annie Laura James received the highest number of votes as the most popular young lady of the Gore Springs community.

GORDON HOLLAND DIES AT LEFLORE

Mr. Gordon Holland died at his home at LeFlore last Saturday night and his remains were buried at Bethel church burying ground Monday. He died of pneumonia. He was about 40 years of age and was an industrious, hard-working man. He leaves wife and five children beside other relatives to mourn his death.

INSANE HOSPITAL SPECIALIST

Visits Grenada In Interests of Patients.

Mrs. Inez Avery Newman, director of community service for the State Insane Hospital at Jackson, was in Grenada last week for the purpose of getting in touch with any families in this territory who may have, or have had, patients in that institution. She was also endeavoring to see any former patients of the Insane Hospital.

The object of the service is said to be two fold: It is intended to render whatever service possible to former patients, and to get to know the families of those who may be in the hospital at the present time for treatment. It has been shown that many former patients of institutions intended to care for those of impaired minds could have their health preserved and their minds remain intact if the proper environments are had at home. Many mental breakdowns come because of things regarded as of minor importance, and because when patients return home, these things are not looked after, there will perhaps be a recurrence.

Aside from the large financial saving to the State, the restoration of these people who have mental ills, to partial or complete economic independence is inestimable.

It is stated to be one of the objects of the department of community service to bring to the general public a more comprehensive knowledge of the work being done at the State Insane Hospital, thus effecting a closer co-operation in the matter of getting restored patients back into their normal life.

Mrs. Newman expressed herself as being more than delighted with Grenada. She was pleased as to the many courtesies extended her and for what appeared to be a general desire to further the very excellent part of the work which she is directing. Mrs. Newman is evidently well trained in her work and her very being seems to pulsate with the idea of aiding the mentally afflicted.

W. RIPPY—NATIONAL LIFE AND ACCIDENT GENERAL AGENT

The Sentinel but expresses what is the general thought of the community when it states that Mr. W. Rippy, agent for the National Life and Accident Company, is regarded as one of Grenada's worthy citizens and that he is deserving of every confidence.

Mr. Rippy came here about five years ago. The business of his company has prospered wonderfully under his leadership, and when one gets to know him, it is no surprise that his insurance business has greatly increased. He has the energy and the talent to push a proposition along, and he lets no opportunity pass to press the interests of his company. Aside from business affairs, Mr. Rippy takes a keen interest in all that pertains to the best welfare of the public and is a useful factor in the community.

ROBBING THE FARMER.

Somebody somewhere is robbing the farmer of his legitimate profits, to the detriment of the nation as a whole.

With the improved methods of agriculture, and the consequent increase in production, the farmer's profits should be far in excess of what they are today.

From one end of the country to the other the consumer continues to pay high prices for farm products, only a small portion of which as a rule goes to the farmer.

Who gets the difference? Who is lining his pockets at the expense of both the farmer and the consumer?

Many official investigations have been started—but are still to be heard from.

Many promises have been made—but are yet to be kept.

Many people are wondering how long this condition will continue—but they will keep on wondering.

Because, as a matter of fact, there appears to be no one with moral, physical and POLITICAL courage enough to unearth the robbers and give them their just deserts.—Winona Times.

HORTICULTURAL SHOW AT A&M

The Mississippi A. & M. Horticultural Society announces its second annual horticultural show to be held at the Mississippi A. & M. College November 25th which date has been designated as "Dad's Day" by that institution.

Considerable plans have been made and are being carried out which will no doubt materialize in the largest exhibit of exclusive "Mississippi-grown" horticultural products ever shown in the State. To the hundreds of visitors who will witness the Dad's Day celebration, the horticultural show will be a very interesting and instructive object lesson in the possibilities of Mississippi as a fruit, nut and vegetable growing State.

The society is receiving very encouraging support and co-operation from State agricultural workers, county and home economics agents, agricultural and consolidated high schools and individual growers in all sections of the State in their pledge to enter competitive exhibits or to use their influence in securing them. Keen rivalry is already being manifested among a number of agricultural and consolidated high schools and individual growers. Exhibits are already coming in.

Ribbons and suitable prizes will be awarded for the best single exhibit of fruits, nuts and vegetables, and for the best class exhibit of any of these products. Fifteen dollars in certified nursery stock will be offered for the best exhibit entered by an agricultural or consolidated high school. Prizes of equal value will be offered for the best exhibit sent in by individual growers.

All exhibits must reach the college on or before Nov. 22d for entry. Products which may be out of season by that date and which cannot be kept at home may be sent in now to be placed in cold storage until the day of the show when they will be exhibited in the name of the sender. Those desiring full information should write to the A. & M. Horticultural Society or to B. W. Stone, Chairman, Entry Committee, A. & M. College, Mississippi.

COTTON EXPERTS IN MISSISSIPPI NOW

Organization specialists who are to lead in putting over the Cotton Marketing Association in the State of Mississippi are at work. With every section of the entire south sending recognized leaders in farmers co-operative association movements, the success of the Mississippi Farm Bureau Cotton Association is assured. According to Gus Hill, campaign manager, these men are an "All American organization" team because they were selected for their good work in their own states and for the assistance they gave in carrying co-operative organization work to the farmers of other states.

These leaders have started the ball rolling to carry Mississippi well over the top in the organization of the Cotton Association: D. R. Swatty, Arkansas; J. B. Burns, Jr., Holland, Texas; George T. Barnes, Abbeville, S. C.; E. C. McInnis, Rosedale, Miss.; H. L. Laker, Warner, Texas; R. H. Pate, Jackson, Miss.; Lindsey Reese, Canton, Miss.; W. C. Proctor, Harrisburg, Ark.; O. T. Harper, Aiken, S. C.; R. S. Gulledge, Tignall, Ga.; D. J. McMillan, Union, S. C.; S. L. West, Eastman, Ga., R J. Morgan, Montgomery, Ala.; E. P. Whitson, Milford, Texas; and B. F. Hull, Albertville, Ala.

To The Members and Friends of The Red Cross.

It is impossible for me to meet all of you personally as I should like to do, but I am enabled to say a word directly to you through the courtesy and co-operation of The Sentinel.

The Annual Red Cross Roll Call will be held Nov. 11-30 this year. Wil you not write or speak an encouraging word to Mr. A. M. Carothers, Chairman, Grenada County Chapter, ARC. Grenada; Mrs. W. D. Salmon, vice chairman; Mr. .H .J Ray, treasurer; Mrs. J. Gore, secretary.

Tell them you will help with the Roll Call in your neighborhood, so that you will renew your membership.

Your Red Cross Chapter should be one of the forces for progressive betterment of your ty, but your Chapter and the national organization are dependent upon public support. Locally and nationally, Red Cross officers will appreciate your active co-operation and pledge you their best efforts to keep the organization faithful to its obligations to disabled ex-soldiers and in its many other services to the country.

Sincerely yours,
Harry L. Hopkins, Manager,
Southern Division, A. R. C.

SOUTHERN COTTON MILLS.

Howamazing has been the growth of Southern cotton mills is revealed in figures recently compiled by the Baltimore Manufacturers' Record.

In 1880 there were 180 mills in the South with a capital of $21,976,000. Today there are 970 with a capital of $850,000,000. Surely one of the romances of American industry, exclaims The Record.

Time was when most of our domestic consumption of cotton went to New England. Much of it was sold back to us in manufactured goods. Now, however, the situation is radically changed. Last year the Southern mills consumed 3,733,000 bales, whereas only 2,178,000 went to the rest of the country. The time ought to come when all the domestic consumption will be milled in the South where it is grown.—N. O. Daily States.
